

37C A Little That The Righteous Hold

vs. 16-31

1. ¹⁶A lit - tle that the right-eous hold Is bet - ter far than wealth un - told
 2. ¹⁸He knows the days the per - fect live, To them a her - it - age will give
 3. ²⁰Al - though the wick - ed pros - pered seem, At last they van - ish like a dream
 4. ²¹They bor - row oft and pay not back, But right - eous men do noth - ing lack,
 5. ²³The good man's steps are led a - right, His way is pleas - ing in God's sight,

Of man - y wick - ed men; ¹⁷De - stroyed shall be their arm of pride,
 Which ev - er shall a - bide; ¹⁹In e - vil times no shame they know,
 And per - ish in a day; Je - ho - vah's foes shall soon ap - pear
 And give with grac - ious hand; ²²Those cursed by Him shall be de - stroyed,
 Es - tab - lished it shall stand; ²⁴He shall not per - ish though he fall,

But they who in the LORD con - fide Shall be up - hold - en then.
 And in the days of fam - ine's woe They shall be sat - is - fied.
 Like fields once fair, now brown and sear; Like smoke they fade a - way.
 But such as have His grace en - joyed, They shall pos - sess the land.
 The might - y LORD who rules o'er all Up - holds him with His hand.

6. ²⁵Though I am old who young have been, 8. ²⁹The righteous, through His favoring hand,
 No saint have I forsaken seen, Shall yet inherit all the land
 Nor yet his home in need; And dwell therein for aye;
²⁶He ever lends in gracious ways, ³⁰He talks of wisdom and of right,
 His life true charity displays, ³¹In God's pure law is his delight,
 His songs are blest indeed. His steps go not astray.

7. ²⁷Depart from evil, do thou well,
 And evermore securely dwell;
²⁸Jehovah loves the right.
 His faithfulness His saints have proved,
 Forever they shall stand unmoved,
 But sinners God will smite.
